FRIDAY, NOVEMBER, 5 1886.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has issued a proclamation designating Thursday, the 25th inst., as a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

THE House has passed Judge Knapp's bill raising the limit of trustee process to $10. The law which this bill repeals ought never to have been passed.

"It may be that the cold water geysers which have broken out in South Carolina are really only delicate and kindly suggestions on the part of nature to the people of those parts," says the Chicago News. This is the progress of prohibition explained on natural grounds and the whole vexed question of temperance reform taken out of the realm of politics.

It has been found on investigation that Vermont and three other States are the only ones in the Union that have no provisions for filling vacancies in the House of Representatives. This obvious need it is proposed to meet by the bill which the House committee has reported, and which will undoubtedly be passed. Every town is certainly entitled to representation, and yet it often happens that half a dozen, more or less, are not, at every session.

We observe that a number of our esteemed contemporaries are terribly agitated because the legislature accepted the railroad's invitation to go, last week, and see the new bridge which the State has helped to build between North Hero and Alburgh. The e. e.'s in question must entertain a lofty notion of the representatives' integrity if, as their remarks imply, they believe the railroad can thus buy them up. Fortunately, most folks entertain a higher opinion of our legislators.

AUDITOR WILLIAMS of the United States treasury department, in his annual report, repeats his former assertion that Vermont is largely indebted to the general government for arms and equipments received in 1864-65. He admits, however, that "a full investigation has not been completed." A full investigation is to be made by the legislature, and when that is done we shall know something about it. Book-keeping is apparently far from an exact science in the latitude of Washington.

HON. A. F. WALKER of Rutland in a recently-published letter does a good thing for the proposed railroad commission in setting forth the reasons why the appointment of the members of such a commission should be in the hands of the governor rather than the legislature.
The people of the State have suffered enough from the "good fellow" argument, that has too frequently led the legislature to elect to an important office one of its members who possessed few or no qualifications for the office he was chosen to fill.

PROF. PERRY, the free-trade crank who assumes to teach political economy at Williams college, is delighted with the administration, which he believes holds the same views as he does. Here is his opinion of it:

It is traditional, it is congruous, for the democratic party to be the party of free trade. Secretary Manning has done for free trade in the United States the past year more effective work than any other man in the country; Postmaster General Hias is an outspoken and an undoubted friend of a free commerce; President Cleveland will go as fast and far toward that goal as the people and Congress will permit him.

WHILE they are engaged in the regulation of things in general the legislature ought well turn its attention to the express companies. A law passed some years ago, and still standing on the statute book, requires such companies to post a town clerk's office of every town where they have offices, and also in the post-office, a tariff of the rates between places with which it does business. This law is not complied with, and the charges, particularly on packages from outside the State, seem to be based on the good or bad humor of the man who fixes them rather than on any substantial basis of figures.

FOLLOWING close upon the President's proclamation warning office-holders to keep out of politics came the Vermont Democratic State convention, which was attended and participated in by pretty nearly every federal office-holder in the State. President Cleveland was informed of the facts, but no official heads came off; whence many people were led to believe that the jewel consistency had no place among the ornaments of the administration. But Senator Morrill clears up all doubts. In a recent interview he tells a reporter that "the administration does not appear to have any policy except in the Pickwickian sense. It has advanced no definite policy upon any subject except possibly the tariff, and it does not seem to care whether it has a following or not."

HE EATS THE SKIN.

We have freely exercised our opinion as a Republican in opposition to Mr. Edmunds' re-election, and as it seemed to us for good reasons, but with his endorsement by the party our opposition has come to an end.—[St. Albans Messenger.]

This remark of the Messenger recalls the famous quarrel between Pistol and Captain Fluellen in "King Henry V." Pistol is a big, blustering fellow, whose constant boasting disgusts the captain. A rather crabbed little Scotchman. The latter finally determines to show up Pistol as a windy coward, hits him over the head as he struts around, and makes him eat a leek, skin and all, saying: "Nay; pray you, throw none away; the skin is good for your broken coxcomb. When you take occasions to see leeks hereafter, mock at them; that is all."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

There is no end to the arguments that may be advanced for and against woman suffrage; but the important fact that must be kept in view in the discussion is thus well stated in the St. Johnsbury Republican: "The vast majority of women don't want the municipal franchise or any other franchise. If there had been any doubt on this point, it was abundantly dispelled by the operation of the law giving tax-paying women the right to vote in school-meetings. Not one woman in a thousand has availed herself of this law, or ever will do so."

Until the women of the State avail themselves of the rights they already have, it is of doubtful expediency to confer upon them the right to vote in municipal elections, as is proposed in a number of bills now before the legislature.
Woman suffrage flourishes best in the Far West where the women have had a hand in government from the very first and feel it is their duty as well as privilege to vote. Here it will require many years for women to get into the habit of voting. It might, nevertheless, be a good thing for the male voters to know that if they were inclined to go astray the women had the power to set matters right, or, at any rate, to defeat corrupt men and measures.

THE NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.

There were elections of one sort or another in thirty-five of the States on Tuesday. The results may thus be summarized:

Abram S. Hewitt, Democrat, is elected mayor of New York city, having 30,269 votes to 60,392 for Roosevelt, Republican, and 67,699 for George, Labor. The State elected Peckham, Democratic candidate for judge, by 9631 plurality.

In Massachusetts, Ames, Republican, was elected governor by nearly 10,000 over Andrew, Democrat.

In New Hampshire, Sawyer, Republican for governor, has the most votes but falls of the majority required. The Republicans have 35 majority in the Legislature.

Connecticut, too, did not elect a State ticket. The Democrats led, however.
The legislature, which will elect a governor, is Republican by 29 majority.

Indiana probably elected the Republican State ticket; both parties claim the legislature.

Gov. Rusk, Republican, is re-elected in Wisconsin by 2500 plurality.

In Iowa the Republican State ticket is chosen by 10,000 majority; and the Republicans gain one congressman.

Gov. Martin, Republican, is re-elected in Kansas by nearly 40,000 majority. The congressional delegation is made up of six Republicans and one Independent.

The Republicans gain one congressman, and possibly more, in California and elect their candidate for governor.

Congressman Morrison is defeated in Illinois. The Republicans of Nevada elect their State ticket with the exception of supreme court judge. Nebraska goes Republican by 20,000 majority on the State ticket. The Republican State ticket is re-elected in Minnesota, and the Republicans have a working majority in the legislature. Ohio gives the Republican State ticket 15,000 to 17,000 majority, and the Republicans gain five congressmen.

In Colorado the Democratic nominee for governor is elected by 1500 majority.

Pennsylvania's congressional delegation will consist of 19 Republicans and nine Democrats, a gain of one by the Democrats.

In New Jersey the Republicans gain a congressman; but the Democrats elect the governor and the legislature is tied on a joint ballot.

Carlisle, speaker of the House of Representatives, is defeated by 250 majority.

Although the returns are not all in yet, those at hand indicate that Tuesday was a "cold day" for the Democrats generally. They also show that free trade stock is considerably below par, when two so prominent exponents of that doctrine as Morrison and Carlisle are allowed to remain at home.

PERSONAL.

The widow of Gen. Stannard, late of Burlington, has received a pension certificate entitling her to $50 a month.

Mr. E. C. Carrigan, who served for eight or ten years as clerk of the Berwick House at Rutland, has been appointed deputy collector and inspector of customs at Newport.

Mr. W. F. Tiffany, the genial express messenger on the local trains between Rutland and Burlington for 25 years past, on Tuesday began the 35th year of his service as messenger.

By the death of Mr. Lyman Cotton, elsewhere announced, Mr. J. F. Cotton of Weybridge becomes the sole survivor of a family of six sons and one daughter, all of whom were living eight years ago.

There is but one old soldier on Governor Pingree's staff, whereas all of Governor Ormsbee's colonels are soldiers with good records, with one exception, that of Col. Crombie of Burlington.— [Free Press.] What sort of a record has Col. Crombie?

COUNTY GLEANINGS.

Joseph Rounds of Bristol has been granted a pension of $2 a month and gets $50 arrears.

Kingsley Bros. of Salisbury have two pulp mills, one dry and the other wet.
They grind up nearly 1000 cords of wood a year, keep four teams hauling pulp to the cars and employ some 50 men.

VETERANS' REUNIONS.

There have been numerous reunions of veterans at Montpelier this week. The Eight Regiment volunteers' association was organized Tuesday with Gen. Thomas as president. The First Vermont cavalry at its gathering chose James Barrett president. The annual reunion of the Veteran Officers' Reunion association was held on Wednesday. These officers were elected: President, ex-Gov. Roswell Farnham of Bradford; vice-president, Gen. Edward H. Ripley of Rutland; secretary, Lieut. F. E. Smith of Montpelier; treasurer, Gen. Levi G. Kingsley of Rutland. The annual address was delivered in the evening in representatives' hall by Gen. Francis A. Walker of Boston, on the military life of the late Gen. Hancock.
At the close of the address appropriate resolutions were adopted in memory of Gen. Stannard, and a copy ordered sent to his widow. The association then marched to the Pavilion, where a banquet was served.

THE SHEEP TRADE.

Mr. H. E. Bissell of East Shoreham came home, Monday, from Burlington, Wis., where he went with a number of rams, which he sold.

Mr. John H. Mead of West Rutland has just returned from New Mexico, where he went in September with 80 head of Merino sheep. They were sold to Capt. John Clancy of Las Vegas, New Mexico, who has 30,000 head of sheep and spends all his time and money raising them.

Mr. O. P. Moore of this place returned, Tuesday, from Ubert, Montana, where he went in September with Mr. Loren Richards of New Haven, who took out 230 Merino rams. The sheep were all disposed of at fair rates and Mr. Richards is on his way home. His partner, Mr.
Spear of Braintree, is a member of the House, and could not go, so Mr. Moore's services were obtained.

WOMAN'S BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The following resolutions were adopted at the annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions held in Middlebury last week:

The members of the Vermont Branch of the Woman's Board desire to record their hearty thanks for the many kindnesses shown this gathering to-day, the willing service of meeting us at the station and assigning us to the hospitable and beautiful homes of Middlebury, where our reception has been so cordial.

We express our gratitude due to the dear missionaries, who have introduced us, by vivid pictures of their work, to their various fields of labor, whom we shall henceforth follow with a new and more loving interest.

We give our most cordial thanks to Miss Child of the Woman's Board of Boston for the tender words of greeting and appreciation of the individual work of our auxiliaries, upon which she has laid the burden of labor for the increase and efficiency of the work of sending the gospel to every creature.

We are grateful for the sweet token of flowers placed upon our table, itself an inspiration.

Our thanks are due also to railroads and committees who have facilitated our gathering together.

Above all we thank the great Head of the church for removing barriers, for conciliations, for "His sweet will" in sending this beautiful rainy day to bring us heart-to-heart together in closer warmth, whose benediction we reverently invoke as we stand upon the threshold of another fiscal year, and laying our hand in His say "This day is a day of good tidings and we hold our peace; if we tarry till the morning light some mischief will come upon us. Now, therefore, come that we may go and tell the King's household."

METHODIST PREACHERS' MEETING.

The preachers of the Burlington district held a three-days' meeting at Rutland this week, opening Tuesday. Presiding Elder Bennett called the meeting to order, and after devotional exercises, Rev. J. J. Noe of Middlebury was elected secretary and treasurer. Nineteen preachers were present. Miss E. H.
Delevan of Weybridge read a paper on "The elements of success in pastoral work." The second topic, "What methodists shall we pursue to bring about a revival in our church," was discussed by Rev. H. F. Austin of Vergennes and Rev.
S. M. Wilbur of Lincoln. Rev. J. H.
Lincoln read a paper on "Conditions of pulpit power," and the topic was opened for wider discussion by the ministers present. Presiding Elder Bennett addressed the convention on the state of the district work and some needs of the district. The evening sermon was preached by Rev. G. H. Robbins of North Ferrisburgh, the text being from Job xiii, 27: "Thou settest a print upon the heels of my feet." There was a large attendance at the evening session.
A discussion of the "Witness of the Spirit" was led by Rev. M. M. Curry of Pittsford.

Other topics discussed were: "How shall we increase the interest in our church missionary work?" T. C. Potter, S. D. Elkins, E. L. Walker; "Conditions of pulpit power," J. W. Quinlan, D. M.
Schell, J. H. Lincoln; "The proper attitude of the church toward the temperance reform," J. J. Noe, J. E. Metcalf, G. T. Sutton; "The Burlington district," J. W. Bennett; "Do we feel the need of a restatement of Wesleyan Theology?" J. S. Mott, Andrew Heath, F. Widmer; Rev. J. J. Noe of Middlebury read an able essay introducing the discussion on "The pre-eminence of the church on temperance reform." Mr. Noe believed in the third party movement and thought that was the only relief. The next meeting will be held in Middlebury in February.

WEDDING BELLS.

DYER—DOUD.

The leading social event of the season in West Salisbury was the marriage, on Wednesday evening, of Miss Alice E.
Doud, daughter of M. M. Doud, Esq., and Mr. John E. Dyer, son of Hon. J.
M. Dyer. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents, about 7 o'clock, Rev. S. L. B. Speare of Middlebury officiating. The house was brilliantly illuminated, Chinese lanterns adorning the front. The rooms were thronged with a gay party, and at the appointed time the high contracting parties took their position under a floral marriage bell in a bay window, burthened with evergreen, roses and geraniums.
After the ceremony, the bride and groom received the congratulations of friends, and took the ten o'clock train south.
They will include Boston and Middleboro, Mass., and Salem, N. Y., in their bridal tour of two weeks. The presents were profuse, combining the useful and ornamental, and were in gold, silver, china and bills. Among those present were Hon. Columbus Smith, wife and daughter; E. A. Morton, Esq., and wife of Burlington, and friends from Brandon, Leicester, Middlebury, Salem, Weybridge and Vergennes. Mr. Frank C. Dyer and Miss Lizzie Dyer, and Dr. D. L. Rodgers and Miss Carrie Doud were groomsmen and bridesmaids. Mr. Harry Wright of Weybridge and Mr. Clinton Eastwood of Salisbury were the gentlemanly ushers. The bride and groom will return to a finely furnished house, the Dyer homestead, in West Salisbury, with the wishes of hosts of friends and acquaintances for their future happiness.

MERRILL—SOLLACE.

A pleasant social event in Bridport village, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 28, was the wedding of Mr. Rollin H. Merrill of West Addison and Miss Susie Sollace, at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Olmsted in the presence of the family friends. Mr.
James Sollace and Mr. Albee Merrill ushered the bridal pair into the parlor and to the place where all the brides of the family had uttered the marriage vows.
After congratulations had been extended the newly-married couple, elegant refreshments were served. The bride was beautifully dressed in cardinal s^{il}rah silk heavily trimmed with beaded gimp and cardinal and white striped velvet. Many handsome and valuable presents were received from friends present and away.

Miss Sollace is the youngest daughter of the late H. N. Sollace of Bridport, and will be greatly missed in her own social circle and in the church choir, in which she held a prominent place. Mr. Merrill is a son of Hiram Merrill, Esq., and is a young man of worth and good standing.
Mr. and Mrs. Merrill left, amid a shower of old shoes and good wishes, for a trip among friends in western New York, and on their return will live at his home in West Addison.

—Tombstone dealer (to widow).—Would you like the cause of your husband's death explained on the stone, madam?
Widow.—Well—er—perhaps it might be appropriate to engrave a couple of cucubers on it, if you will.—[N. Y. Sun.]

—Riley—Shpakin' of religion, me wife, Rafferty? Rafferty—On the grounds of infidelity, av coorse.—[Chicago Rambler.]

—A Reading colored congregation is having trouble with its pastor on the ground that his sermons are so cultured, rhetorical and profound that they cannot understand them. Unless his voice is very loud and rasping, such matters as these ought not to disturb their repose.—
